Project Testing Phase

The application was checked by entering sample income and expense transactions, reviewing dashboard totals and balances, testing budget and savings-goal updates, checking recommendation and affordability features, and verifying that saved data remains available after refreshing the page. The layout was also checked for usability on different screen sizes.