Requirement Analysis Phase

The required features were identified: a dashboard showing income, expenses, and balance; transaction entry; category-wise budgeting; savings goals; spending insights and recommendations; and an affordability check. The application was planned as a responsive web app with data stored in the browser using localStorage.